SUMMARY

Full-Stack Developer with hands-on experience creating responsive web platforms and cross-platform mobile applications from idea to launch. I work across React, Flutter, TypeScript, Node.js, Supabase, and Firebase to turn complex requirements into clean interfaces, reliable data flows, and practical user experiences. My approach balances thoughtful system design with clear communication, and I enjoy using AI integrations where they solve real problems and add meaningful value for users.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Freelance Full-Stack Developer

2024 - Present

- Translate client goals into tailored web and mobile products, owning the work from planning and data design through interface development, quality checks, launch, and ongoing support.
- Build responsive, production-ready workflows with React, TypeScript, Flutter, Node.js, Supabase, Firebase, and REST APIs, choosing tools that suit the product and its users.
- Create role-aware access, dashboards, data policies, and intuitive user journeys that protect information while keeping day-to-day work manageable.
- Deliver digital tools for appointments, operations, inventory, reporting, notifications, elections, and local community services.
- Connect applications with cloud services, payment flows, email and SMS notifications, and third-party tools so everyday tasks can run in one place.
